

FOREST PARK / MORSE BEACH TRAIL

The trail begins at the trailhead, crosses the Nickel Plate Railroad Tracks, continues along the perimeters of Fox Prairie Golf Course and Prairie Crossing subdivision to Lakeview Drive. It then continues west along Lakeview to Hague Road. At this point users can continue either north or south; turning north on Hague Road to 196th Street and then west to Morse Beach Park. Turning south at Hague Road the trail continues on to SR 32 and then to SR 38. This south Hague Road trail forks just before SR 38 to the west and continues to Whitcomb Ridge subdivision and South Harbour. Just west of SR 38 the trail splits off in an easterly direction to Hague Road Park.

GREENWAYS AND TRAILS FROM FOREST PARK

NOBLESVILLE'S GREENWAYS AND TRAILS

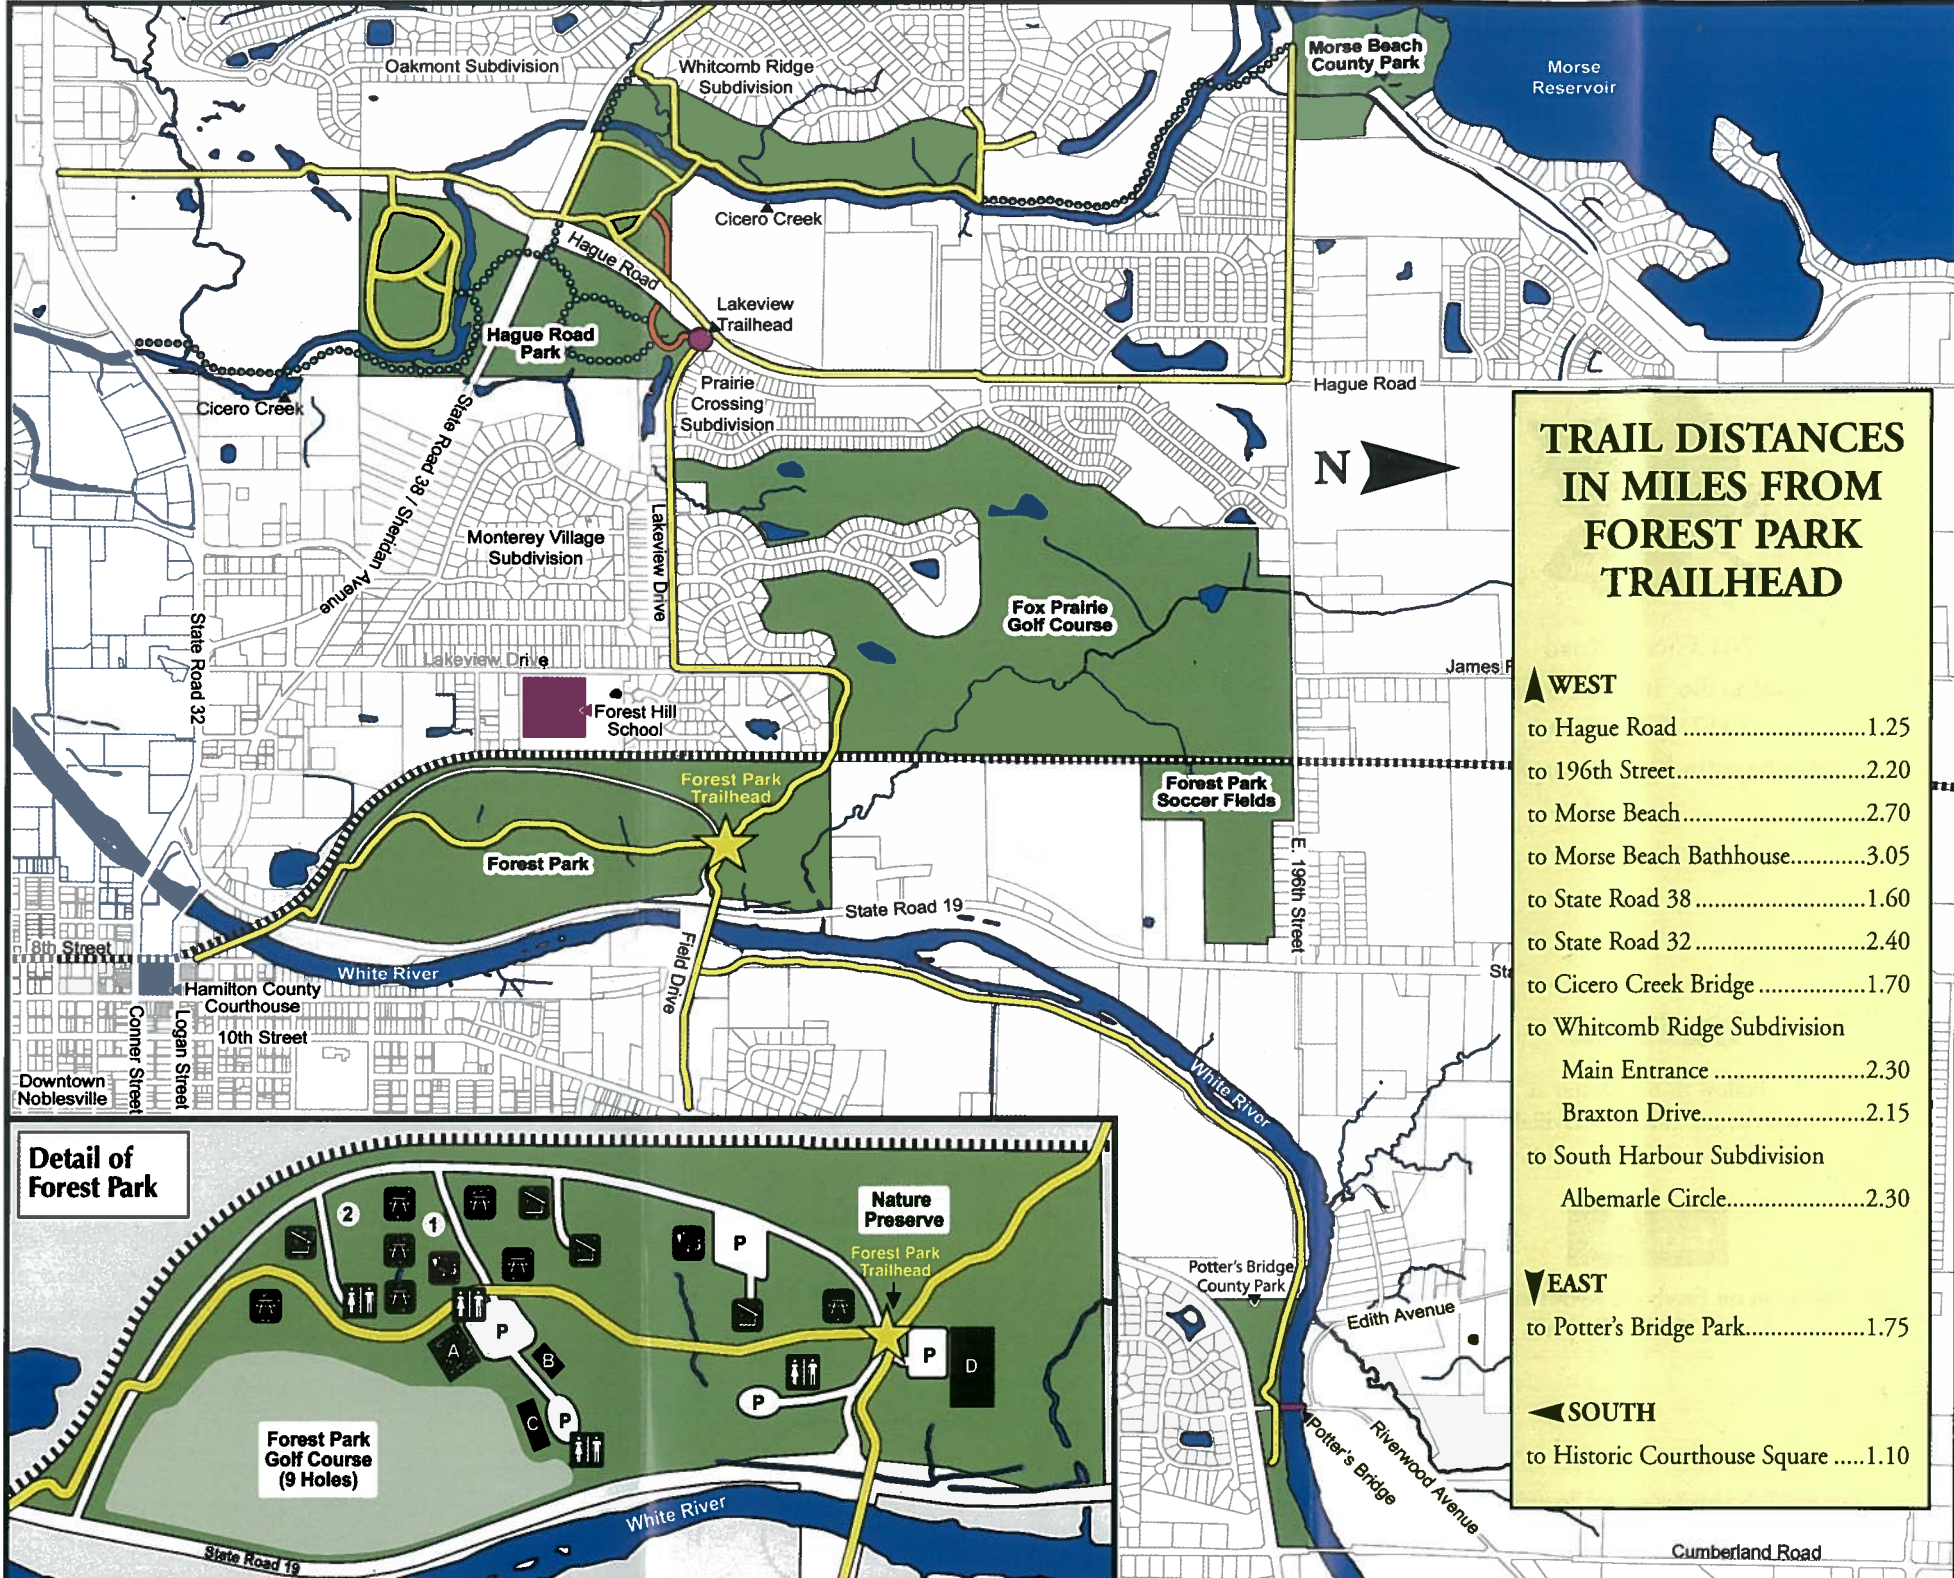

Developing the Rivergreenway Trail along the White River was a sixteen-year quest for the people of Noblesville. First proposed and designed in 1986, the trail finally opened in 2001. Greenway and trail development continues in Noblesville, with new projects currently proposed, planned and in development.

RIVERGREENWAY TRAIL

The White River Greenway ("Rivergreenway") is the connection between Forest Park and downtown Noblesville, and between Forest Park and Potter's Bridge. The trailhead is located in Forest Park, south of the Forest Park Aquatic Center. Traveling east from the trailhead will take you approximately 1.75 miles through wooded flood plains to historic Potter's Bridge Park which features a restored covered bridge. Traveling south from the trailhead will take you 1.1 miles through Forest Park, over White River where the trail cantilevers from the railroad abutments (making it one of the first examples of rails with trail in the state of Indiana), to the corner of 8th Street and Logan Street in Historic downtown Noblesville. Traveling west from the trailhead is the Morse Beach Trail.
